Dear Justine,

Thank you for writing to me. I admire your spirit and commitment to educating girls in underserved communities about a range of career options.

As a former Girl Scout in my hometown of Caribou, Maine, I have such fond memories of earning badges, and I remember how wonderful it was to learn new skills. The character, volunteerism, and confidence that Girl Scouts build contribute greatly to our society. Girl Scouts taught me that determination, principles, and respect for others can take you everywhere you want to go—including to the halls of the United States Capitol.

The skills that Girl Scouts develop today will help them become the leaders of tomorrow. I wish you all the best on the bright future that lies ahead.

Sincerely,
